Celebrate Israel @75

Voices of Israel קול/כל ישראל

Join us for a Jewish Agency led session for missions and groups celebrating Israel's 75th

The Jewish Agency's Connecting the Jewish People Unit encourages Jews from diverse social and religious backgrounds to come together and discuss issues relating to the agenda of the Jewish people and the State of Israel. By giving the opportunity for divergent voices to be heard, people become more visible and familiar to each other. This informal setting allows for in-depth conversations, enabling different types of Jews to connect "in person" while learning about and appreciating the beauty of a diverse Jewish people.

In this session (typically 60-75 minutes long and best held with larger groups between 50-200 people), we offer an up-close and personal conversation with individuals from throughout Israeli society - an opportunity to share thoughts and feelings on Israel today. Participants can meet various sectors of Israeli society, including Arab-Israelis, members of the LGBTQ community, Jews of Color, second generation FSU immigrants, Haredim, Ethiopian immigrants and more.
